

SCARLETT REPRESENTS HER IDEAS WITH SHAVING CREAM

February 16, 2017

Today during our shaving cream activity Scarlett found a way to represent her ideas. She started out using her fingers to make lines and shapes in the shaving cream "It's a big 'O'" as she stretched and made a big circle on table. She then decided she was going to use this circle as the base of a new drawing. She reached for a Popsicle stick... "A small one" she said as she chose between the thick and thin ones. She then proceeded to let her creative side take over.

"I'm making mommy. One eye, another eye, nose and mouth. She's carrying a bag of things. Eating apples and oranges."

She described her picture as she added all different parts to her drawing. This was such a creative way to use the shaving cream and was amazing to see how she made such a detailed picture with these materials! She proceeded to create different things and then started working on her letters with Mikayla, then smoothed it over and proceeded to draw a lower case 'i'. "i for ice cube."
